MOBILE MARKET

2nd & 4th Thursday of the month | 3-5 pm (Rain or Shine)

350 E. Holding Ave. (Located along South Brooks Street across from the Northern Regional Center)

The Northern Community Food Security Team (NCFST) is partnering with Ripe for Revival to offer a pay-what-you-can mobile grocery store. Open to everyone, the pay-what-you-can Mobile Market aims to make fresh and local produce, proteins, dairy, eggs, and other food products accessible and affordable to all, regardless of their budget. The Mobile Market posts "suggested" prices on all items on the bus. Once the shopper has gathered the food they want, they will ring up at the register and receive a "suggested price." If the shopper can afford to pay the full amount they may, if they cannot, they can choose to "pay what they can." Both cash and card payments are accepted.

FOCUS OF NCFST

- 1 Ensure Food Access
- 2 Communicate and Educate
- 3 Develop Sustainable Food Supply
- 4 Build Economic Opportunity
- 5 Leading Through Network

HOW CAN I HELP?

The Northern Community Food Security Team (NCFST) was created to develop and launch a viable food security plan for northern Wake County that aligns with the CAFN plan. The Wake Forest Board of Commissioners charged NCFST with enlisting community members, food security organizations, resource experts, and other stakeholders to develop activities, policies, and partnerships that will move the county towards food security and a sustainable food future. We meet quarterly and anyone is welcome to attend.
